

Indian Dance: The AVS Dance school presented an abridged multilingual dance drama titled “Kanhairo Komolo Mukho” (the blossoming of Lord Krishna), depicting the journey of Lord Krishna's life through a magical series of events after being brought to Vrindavan. A heavenly oracle had warned Kans, Lord Krishna's uncle and the tyrant of Mathura that Lord Krishna will be his doom. Kans sends his demonic acquaintances including Putona, an attractive woman, Kalia, a venomous snake, and Bakasura, a demon bird to kill baby Krishna. Lord Krishna defeats them all. Lord Krishna grows up merrily, winning the hearts of gopis and mothers of Vrindavan. The dance forms in this fusion included Kathak, Sattriya, Odissi, Manipuri and a few elements of modern dance, while the languages used were Hindi, Assamese, Bengali and Manipuri. From the set design to the costumes to the ingenious choreography and stellar performances, the entire event was a gala of talent that one could not tear their eyes away from.

Western Dance: Titled "An Ensemble," the Western Dance performance was spellbinding. From barbaric and violent to social to ritualistic, from being encouraged by the Greeks and then being banned by the Romans, western dance has come a long way. Forty-seven boys and girls performed snippets of the classic ballroom dance followed by a lively favourite, the American jive called swing. There were also elements of Salsa. To conclude, the dancers gracefully glided and joyfully jived in a street dance form, across the floor in this much applauded ensemble.

ENGLISH PLAY : THE WITNESS

The English Play titled The Witness was a thrilling and gripping tale of loyalty, fidelity, and betrayal, that lead humans on the pursuit of love and justice. The play centred around a charming yet enigmatic man named Kamal Mistri. Mistri had been accused of the murder of an old lady who went by the name of Rose Briganza. The audience followed along as Mistri was defended by one of the most illustrious lawyers of Calcutta. As the play progressed, the audience witnessed the intricate and enthralling mystery unfolding through a high octave courtroom drama. As the protagonist and his team struggled to prove his innocence, the truth only blurred out further.

It was due to the introduction of the crafty and clever Mrs. Mistri. The elusive and sly nature of Mrs. Mistri added to the confusion of the identity of the culprit. Was it the seemingly spineless Mr. Mistri or was it the sly wife? The play was successfully executed with sheer mastery in keeping the audience on their toes for the truth. Was it an unfaithful trickster? Or was it a scheming deceit? The play was directed and produced by Mr. Ranjeev Lal Barua, Ms. Munmi Phukan and Mr. Abhinav Gogoi and supported by the able Ms. Priyankoo Kashyap Das.
