CELA FIESTA A MELTING POT OF DIVERSE LITERATURE

In times like these, with uncertainty surrounding our lives, what we truly need is something that brings us together - not by virtue of our nationality, religion or even language but because of our passions that shape our lives. Literature is where we must seek our objective. Literature is the medicine for distress. It is the channel for the voiceless. It is truly awe - inspiring, the power of art, to move people, to bring people together - like it did on this day.

Cela fiesta—a melting pot of diverse literature, hosted by The Assam Valley School on 20 August 2022, a literary attempt for Round Square Schools, began with the Round Square Representative Dr. Pooja Jain welcoming all and address by Student Chairperson Adella Massar. She added essence to the theme by borrowing a quote by F. Scott Fitzgerald “That is part of the beauty of all literature. You discover that your longings are universal longings, that you are not lonely and isolated from anyone. You belong.”

The Author in Conversation with us was a renowned writer and educator Mr. Vikramjit Singh Rooprai, who stole hearts with his encouraging words to have a spark within, followed by a brisk interaction with the young learners. Headmaster, Dr. Amit Jugran laid stress upon literature and its impact on societies and cultures, whereas Visiting Director, Mr. Samik Ghosh encouraged young minds to take up writing in the form of letters and revive the form.

The literary endeavours and deliberations culminated in sharing learning takeaways and experiences forging bonds and memories. The one hundred and ninety participants from twenty different schools left the platform more enriched, informed and excited.

THE ASSAM VALLEY EXPRESS

The room above the library, nestled away from the humdrum of school, is home to those who pursue words passionately. Reflective of who it nurses, the cream walls of the room wear on it like body art, impressions of the minds of those who have lived, served and grown within its protective solitude. It houses with great pride the School's Publication Unit, The Assam Valley Express, known more popularly by its acronym 'AVE'.

The Editorial team is led by the formidable Editor-in-Chief Kekhriesino Meyase who along with the versatile Deputy Editor Hiyaneijemmy Das are the creative duo who design the weeklies.

The prolific correspondents Emidaka Rapsang and Deubale Meru are incredible storytellers while Ssara Jha is the quirky illustrator, whose satires in the form of illustrations and cartoons on recent happenings, have caught popular imagination at school. Along with the indefatigable correspondent Ojas K.V. Ayapilla, they stay consumed in their effort to produce a newsletter that is the essence of the times they live.

To those who give to it devotedly, it becomes a defining journey of self discovery and learning. AVE, to those who live and breathe it, is a world of its own, transcending from being 'an activity' to 'a way of life'.

Dance: The Rhythm of Life

“Dance every performance as if it were your last.”
— Erik Bruhn

Dance is the rhythmic movement of the body, usually to music, in a designated area, for the aim of expressing an idea or emotion, letting off steam, or just enjoying the movement itself. Over the years, the dance school has seen extremely talented dancers and exceptional performances. We can say with great pride that we continue to carry on the legacy that the dance school has created. The dancers are dedicated and skilled and have learnt the art of dance beautifully. Even in the younger classes, we have a good number of amateurs who are showing their skills in this field in an artful manner.

SOCIETY

At The Assam Valley School The Athenaeum, the society for debating and global awareness works to cultivate the ability to interpret, challenge, and be knowledgeable about any subject from various perspectives while the students learn to present their point of view to persuade and effect change.

Upper School Inter-House Debate

The Upper School Inter-House English Debates were held from the 18th to the 21st of May, 2022. The first three days passed in a whirlwind as the Preliminary Rounds were held and by the end of it, Jinari-Manas bagged first position, heading straight to the finals. This time, the Knockout Round was between Subansiri-Namdang and Bhoroli-Lohit for a place in the finals.

The motion for the Knockout Round was “Animals should be kept off the menu.” Though a motion quite familiar to most, the speakers weaved commendable speeches with ingenious arguments. However, the motion was lost and Bhoroli-Lohit were declared the winners, earning them a place in the finals.

The highly-anticipated Finals took place on the evening of the 21st, in the AVR due to the weather, much to the dismay of many. However, the enthusiasm and energy in the packed room truly made up for it. The motion for the finals was “This House believes that in today’s world, experiences are far more valuable than material possessions.” Jinari-Manas were proposing the motion, while Bhoroli-Lohit were opposing it. Speeches varied from suave and composed, to warm and relatable. The end of the debate also marked the end of the Inter-House debates and it was apparent that the audience had gauged that there was no better way to end it. The Most Promising Speaker award went to Jikke Kikum, while the Best Speaker award was tied between Kekhriesino Meyase and Hiyaneijemmy Das. The motion was lost and the coveted winners were Bhoroli-Lohit.

Lower School Inter-House Debates

The Lower School Inter-House English Debates were held from the 4th to the 7th of May, 2022. The first three days were packed with the Preliminary Rounds with motions ranging from the impracticality of electric cars to student loan forgiveness. At the end of the preliminary rounds, Subansiri-Namdang secured first position and went straight to the finals while Bhoroli-Lohit and Jinari-Manas faced each other in a Knockout Round, which would decide who joined the Spartans in the finals.

The motion for this round was “This House believes that films influence people’s behaviour.” Jinari-Manas was proposing the motion while the blues opposed it. By the time the debate was over, everyone’s nerves were on edge, anticipating the results. Bhoroli-Lohit ended up winning the debate, and moved to the finals.

The much-awaited Finals were held on the evening of the 7th under the imposing lights of the Central Courtyard. The motion was “This House believes that the death penalty has no place in a civilised society.” Once again, Bhoroli-Lohit were opposing the motion, while Subansiri-Namdang supported it. The speakers all spoke with poise, flair, and wit that was beyond their years. Each speaker pulled you more towards their stance and by the end of the debate, it was impossible to discern who the winners were.

To a riveted audience, the results were declared that the motion was carried, and Subansiri-Namdang won the debate. Aanya Paul Sarkar and Natasha Billimoria were jointly declared Best Speaker, while the Most Promising Speaker award went to Swadheen Banerjee.

Upper School Hindi Debates

The 14th of May, after a week of scintillating debates, saw the resounding finale to Bharat-Ratna 'Pandit Atal Bihari Vajpayee' Inter-House Debates (Upper School). It saw the might of Kopili -Dhansiri and Jinari-Manas brace for a fight. Kopili-Dhansiri represented by Anushka Jitani, Praveka Kasera, Dayan Hazarika, and Nihal Agarwal were for the motion 'Western influence is polluting Indian culture' while Jinari-Manas represented by Raghav Agarwal, Utkarsh Jajodia, Ahsash Agarwal and Aakanksha Kumar opposed the motion. The judges for the final debate were the Head of Upper School, Dr Kuljeet Singh, the Dean of Activity, Admissions and Marketing Mr. Tushar Bharadwaj and the Deputy Head Academics, Mrs. Shakila Banu. Kopili-Dhansiri based their argument on practices from ancient India that have been diluted along with an insight into the history of British India. They also spoke about the importance of language and food in culture. Jinari-Manas argued that it was the positive influence of the western world that our country was developing and compared Sanskrit to a bouquet of flowers. They quoted the rich lyrics 'Hind desh ke nivasi sabhi jan ek hain' and spoke about the abolition of social evils such as child marriage due to the positive impact of westernization. The evening came to an end with Anushka Jitani of Kopili-Dhansiri being awarded the Most Promising Speaker while the Best Speaker was awarded to Raghav Agarwal of Jinari-Manas. The motion was lost and Jinari-Manas emerged winners.

The East India Debates

After months of discussions and weeks of planning, the 17th East India Debates finally kicked off on the 8th of September, 2022. Through all the glitches, the hurdles of online debating and the confusions, the spirit of debate remained. The excitement was reflected in everyone's performances, the conviction palpable through the screen, the energy truly electrifying. The Opening Ceremony was held on the 8th, which also included the draw of lots. The clashes began on the 9th, with preliminary debates being held round the clock - the day was absolutely jam-packed with verbal battles. The 10th saw the Pre-Quarter and the Quarter-Finals, which were a sight to behold. The topics were varied and eloquently contested. Finally, the tournament concluded on the 11th; the Semi-Finals were held in the morning while the Finals between The Lawrence School, Sanawar and Sanskaar Valley School, Bhopal took place in the evening. The win went to The Lawrence School after a most commendable performance. Every debate of the tournament had fiery speeches, dramatic conclusions, and commendable fights. Not only were the performances awe-inspiring, but the constructs, research, and logic behind them were equally, if not more, commendable. It really puts into perspective just how much talent is brewing in our schools all across the country. Surely, every participant learnt immensely from the others and from the debates themselves; also enjoying themselves greatly in the process. The East India Debates was a testament to the resilience and ingenuity of the school in hosting a beloved event online and also said much about the optimism, goodwill, and talent of the participant schools. We will definitely host the event in the offline mode in 2023.

The Model United Nations society of The Assam Valley School has participated in six physical conferences this year and is on a rapid recovery from the two year hiatus caused by the pandemic due to which the platforms were mostly online. Model United Nations and its growth at AVS under the guidance of our MIC Mr. Samuel Daniel David has seen an exponential growth in 2022. The AVS MUN Society, with the promise of growth and excellence, continues to walk the line of glory both in ambition and in practice. The learning that has come out of this year is simply breath-taking and is expected to grow further in the coming years. It is noteworthy to mention that alongside learning, the MUN conferences have also blessed Aviators with a truckload of spellbinding memories. This activity at AVS is more than just an activity, it is an experience that has the most complicated of agendas and circumstances and still expects resolutions from it

A group of seventeen students under the guidance of Mr. Samuel Daniel David and Mrs. Nidhi Rathore participated in the Harvard Model United Conference held at the Hyderabad International Convention Centre. To say the trip was memorable would be a massive understatement. Right from the conference every single thing was cherished. The towering standards of the conference meant an astounding learning experience for all Aviators. Anushka Jitani of the Class 10 managed to bag the Diplomatic Commendation Award at the conference through her persistence and dedication.

DALY COLLEGE MODEL UNITED NATIONS 2022

30th June to 3rd August 2022

Prior to the MUN I was somewhat skeptical whether I would be able to speak and perform well since it was my first time. There we met delegates who were far more accomplished and competing and learning from them was a great experience. This realisation about how there is also a high level of competition outside of school and the fact that there is always room for improvement hit me. The theme of the MUN was Yuemanzekui and the agenda was about a hypothetical “Dissolution of the People’s Republic of China”

There were a total of six committees talking about various aspects of this agenda namely - Industry, Refugees, Economics, Territory, Energy and the US council. The accommodation and hospitality at Daly College MUN was excellent and the student escorts were very approachable. The committee meetings were generally entertaining, and the first day’s midnight crisis from 11:30 to 3 am got the delegates even more involved and intrigued. The opening and closing ceremonies were very well organised. The Chief Guests at the respective ceremonies were Mr. Anil Trigunayat, an eminent and well-respected IFS officer and Mr. Salman Khurshid, honourable Ex. Cabinet Minister of External Affairs, both the chief guests made some very inspiring points in their speeches. The overall experience of this MUN was amazing for me and for all the other participants. Lastly, I would also like to thank Ms. Sreejita Banerjee and Mr. Sanjay Sharma for taking time out of their vacations and escorting us for this MUN.

THE AVS MUSIC SCHOOL

The Music Society of The Assam Valley School is a much-coveted activity to which to belong at school. It comprises various elements in terms of instruments and musical styles coming together to maintain the progress in their musical skills throughout the academic year and to bring the theoretical knowledge obtained in music courses into practice. The Music Society heavily engages a student's creativity and passion towards sound and shapes the individual in aspects such as teamwork, artistic expression, time management and is an excellent cathartic agent. Being in the Music Society requires years of self-discovery and dedication to one's instrument and vocal skills and requires one to listen as much, if not more, than play or sing. After all, the greatest tool of a musician is his/her ears. The Music School is active throughout the year and is not limited by season or opportunity. The Assam Valley School has ample opportunity within its four walls to showcase the Music School's presentations which include the Indian and Western Choir, be it opening ceremonies for various events, Inter-House competitions, the prestigious Founders day celebrations and the IPSC music festival. The main thrill of being in the Music Society is the excitement of not knowing when an opportunity to play or sing may arise whilst getting the feeling that it is right around the corner somewhere, playing along with different people who have different musical styles, musical tastes and inspirations.

Photography is a thriving activity in AVS and students filled with enthusiasm are seen running around the lush green campus in search for the perfect shot. They fiddle and play with their camera systems and learn from their mistakes and experiences and this is what fuels their passion. The photographers of The Assam Valley School never fail to impress.

As the Head of the Photographic Society, it gives me immense pleasure to say that our community flourished through an entire pandemic and never lost its spark. Though we all shifted from seeing all the faces shine in person to seeing them through screens, it felt like we never really lost touch. Our society has always been actively clicking new pictures and has been successfully changing the perspectives of people through our lenses. It really gives me immense pride to mention about the students never missing a beat and always being ready with marvellous pictures.

Mr Chauhan really has been pitching new ideas, showing us the world through the lens and has always helped us capture the most important moments. The photographic society had successfully participated in many events.

During the summer holidays, we started our trip to one of the most captivating places you could ever visit in India - Spiti Valley! It is situated in the North East region of Himachal Pradesh. All the aviators had a good time in Spiti. As the AVS Photographic Society's captain, together with my student lensmen, we were astounded by the grandeur of the landscape. It had enormous waterfalls, stunning lakes, deep valleys, old monasteries, breathtakingly tall mountains, and numerous amazing snow-capped summits that could be seen even in August! We spent the night at Kaza, where we got some fantastic photos of the starry night and were able to both see and photograph the magnificent Milky Way Galaxy in the clear night sky.

The students really did give their best in every way possible and it really makes me feel very proud to see my juniors get their hands right on the camera and experience all the different possibilities, ultimately building enough skill and knowledge to capture the moment perfectly.

Social Service League

The Social Service League of The Assam Valley School is a team of hardworking individuals under the leadership of the very able Mrs Lipika Borah who time and again makes us review how tiny contributions can lead to massive changes and laced with passion and commitment, it can really bring about a difference. The endless list of recognised initiatives have the following as the most noteworthy:

'Energy efficient Chula' Project

This project aims at providing an easy, cost effective and clean cooking environment. The project is ideated by the Science Club of The Assam Valley School and implemented and expanded by the Social Service League of The Assam Valley School. We have successfully constructed 54 chulas which are distributed to the Sessa community. The project will continue by spreading the idea to the nearby villages and make the people understand the importance of it. We have tried to expand the project to The Holy Kid's School, Phulbari during our visit and demonst rated the mechanism.

Plantation drive in Tezpur

The Social Service League took the initiative to do a plantation drive of planting 1500 saplings in different places of Tezpur, on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of the school's establishment. It was an eight-day programme where students from classes 5 to 8 took part along with teachers and student leaders from class 12 who oversaw that the drive would go on smoothly. Around one thousand saplings were planted during this programme in different places of Tezpur such as Joymoti Pathar, Polo Field Children Park, Jahaj Ghat, District Library, Cotton Road, Silver Jubilee School, etc., with various shade bearing and flowering plants such as Kanchan, Krishnachura, Azar, Xunaru.

Use of old unused copies of students

After completion of the semester ending examination the SSL volunteers segregated the used copies in all the boarding houses and separated the unused pages from the copies. The main objective of this project is to make diaries by students from those unused pages and give them to the teachers and students of nearby schools.

'Anaemia Mukta Bharat' Abhiyaan ('Anaemia Free Bharat' Mission)

It is a government project providing iron syrup / capsules to women on a weekly basis. It started on 8th March, 2022 with the AVS girls' community. On a weekly basis the girls are provided with Feronia XT iron syrup. In collaboration with the government hospital we have collected iron tablets for the lady support staff and distributed the tablets among them. It is a long term project and the SSL team will try to reach out to the women living in the nearby villages to educate them about the importance of a healthy life.

Construction of Toilet in Chowk Bazaar

On 10th June 2022, over 300 shops were gutted after a major fire broke out at Chowk Bazaar, Tezpur, Assam. To help the shopkeepers of the Chowk Bazaar, whose shops were destroyed, the Social Service League of AVS undertook the initiative to reconstruct the Chowk Bazaar toilet. The entire school community including students and staff have contributed to raise funds for this noble cause. Our school, in collaboration with the Tezpur Municipal Board has constructed a toilet with 7 compartments for the shopkeepers.

Literacy Programme

The Social Service League volunteers visit The KGMT School (Kasturba Gandhi Memorial Trust) in neighbouring Hurchurah and The Holy Kids School Phulbari on a regular basis. The main objective of visiting these schools is to share thoughts and knowledge with those children.

Visit to Missionaries of Charity

The SSL members visited the Missionaries of charity. The children's Play Park and the wooden furniture were painted by our volunteers. We regularly visit this institute and spend time with the physically challenged children. It gives us motivation and inspiration to serve society.

Flood Relief Programme

The Social Service League of The Assam Valley School takes active part in the flood relief programme during the monsoon season whenever the flood affects the lives of the local people. The team visits the flood affected areas of nearby villages and provides them with food and other daily use materials such as phenyl, bleach and detergent.

Moran Blind School

The Social Service League recently paid a visit to the Moran Blind School. There were fifteen of us. It was a three-day service programme. The programme was truly enriching and splendid. The entire team offered heartfelt gratitude to the management for providing such an amazing opportunity.

Housing the youngest girls of the school, Tihu House affords them their own space, allowing them an opportunity to grow into self-reliant and happy individuals. We also want them to follow a daily schedule that would not be too taxing on them but one that would be filled with fun. Tihu upholds an enabling atmosphere where each child is able to recognise and express their best potential in the areas of discipline, sports, academics and culture. “From little acorns grow mighty Oaks” aptly describes what Tihu is all about. From building friendships to learning new skills Tihu is a home away from home for girls in the age group of ten to thirteen years.
